Dear Parents and Carers

After last night’s announcement, we have been working hard this morning to make all the necessary preparations for a transition to remote learning. Most of you will be familiar with what we offered last time, and I wanted to let you know the details of the similar offer we will now be providing for your children for this term. It has been adapted, after your parent feedback, to include more live lessons. The overview of our home learning offer, for all classes, is as follows:

Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday

As a trial, this will be on Zoom for the whole school and will start on Friday 15 th Jan.

The video lessons will be posted on the school website. Go to the ‘Children’ tab and ‘Remote Learning’ at the bottom of the drop-down menu to find the lessons for your child’s class. They can be watched at any time. The Zoom links will be posted on Class Story on Dojo each day.

Your child’s work should be uploaded to their Portfolio on Class Dojo, as during the previous lockdown. Feedback will be given briefly, as much as time allows and children’s levels of engagement will be noted.

If you need resources (stationery and/or an iPad) you can request these using this link.

This offer will begin from tomorrow. For this week, we ask that critical workers send their children to school only when absolutely necessary. From next week we will aim to increase in-school provision to include vulnerable children as well.

Thank-you very much for your patience while we get the lessons uploaded for tomorrow and work through the many details such as provision of free school meals, breakfast club, booking places for critical workers and so on.

Best wishes,

Warrick Barton
